

Once upon a time there was a country where all people were cheerful and happy , till a new King appeared. He was very strong, tough and angry!

Everyone was scared of him and no one could object to him. In the beginning he ordered that music was not allowed, because he found it annoying, then dancing was forbidden, after that talking loudly was not allowed and, in the end, he would not let the children play!!!!

‘Stop playing’, he kept saying, ‘I can’t stand all this noise’. And silence domained everywhere!

Everybody was afraid and nobody reacted. The days and the months went by and slowly all people started forgetting what their lives used to be like in the past. All people, apart from two children( our protagonists) who decided to escape and travel to other countries and to find out how other children live, play and have fun.

So they travelled to five countries and met new friends, learnt new games and how the children in those other countries played.

After that, they returned to their own country , called all children and entered the palace secretly. Then, they tied up the King to a chair, forcing him to see all things they had learnt in their long journey. They played for hours and their sweet little voices were spread everywhere.

And ,in the end, an unexpected miracle took place! The King suddenly changed and a little smile appeared on his face, as his own memories had come back to him. Watching the children reminded him of his own childhood, when he was so happy, playing all day long with his beloved friends!

It was then , when he realised how much he had changed! He immediatedly ordered all the prohibitions to be removed and turned into a happy King who wouldn't stop playing like a little child!!